

Your Curly Hair

Personalized Hair Routine Guide

"Define, hydrate, and fight frizz"

---

Curly hair — from loose waves to tight coils — has a unique structure that makes it naturally drier and more prone to frizz. The curl pattern prevents scalp oils from travelling down the shaft, so external moisture is essential. This routine is built around the curl-care principles of hydration, definition, and gentle handling.

Your Step-by-Step Routine

Step 1: Co-wash or Low-poo (2–3×/week)

Use a sulfate-free shampoo or conditioner wash (co-wash) to cleanse without stripping moisture. Scrub the scalp gently with fingertips.

Step 2: Conditioner (every wash)

Use a rich, slip-heavy conditioner. Detangle with a wide-tooth comb while conditioner is in. Rinse with cool water.

Step 3: Leave-in Conditioner (every wash)

Apply a leave-in conditioner to soaking-wet hair. This is the foundation of curl hydration — do not skip this step.

Step 4: Curl Cream or Gel

Layer a curl cream for moisture and definition, then seal with a light-hold gel to lock in the curl pattern and fight frizz. Apply using the 'praying hands' method or 'scrunching'.

Step 5: Drying

Diffuse on low heat or air-dry. Avoid touching hair while it dries to prevent frizz. Scrunch out the crunch once fully dry.

Do's & Don'ts

|-------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------|
| ✓ Always detangle with conditioner in — never dry           | ✗ Don't use a regular towel — use a microfibre towel or T-shirt |
| ✓ Use the LOC method (Liquid, Oil, Cream) for deep moisture | ✗ Don't brush dry curly hair (causes frizz and breakage)        |
| ✓ Diffuse on low heat or air-dry to preserve curl pattern   | ✗ Don't use sulfate shampoos daily                              |

✓ Pineapple hair at night and sleep on a satin pillowcase

✓ Clarify once a month to remove product buildup

✗ Don't skip leave-in conditioner

✗ Don't touch hair while it's drying
